What is Tone?

- Artists use tone to create observational drawings. An observational drawing could be a portrait, architecture (buildings) or still life (bowl of fruit).
- Artists use layers of shading to achieve light, medium and dark tones. You may also use cross-hatching to achieve tone. Cross-hatching is when an artists uses layers of line to create highlights and shadows within a drawing.
- You achieve a light tone with a light pressure on the pencil, so you achieve a darker tone with a heavier pressure.

Activity – Using Tone

- Artists use a variety of pencils when drawing. There are harder pencils and softer pencils, which can help you blend light, medium and dark tones.
- It is also essential to have a good quality eraser and sharpener to hand. A eraser can be used to create highlights in a drawing.
- The most important tool for an artist to use is their eyes. You should look up at what you are drawing at least three times every minute!
- You should also think about the direction of your lines and draw in the same direction when using tone. When you start to draw objects, your lines should follow the shape of what you are drawing.

Tonal Shading

Remember to have the following equipment ready for this task:

HB Pencil, Rubber and a Sharpener

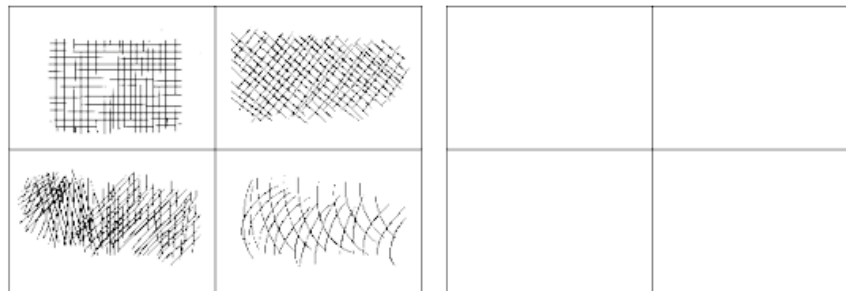

Using an HB pencil, shade each box with the required tone, copying the box above.

Think about the pressure you apply with the pencil and the direction of your lines. You can also make your shading appear smoother by blending the pencil with your finger or the edge of a rubber.

Now try to use cross-hatching to achieve tone. Copy the direction of lines in each box using a pencil.
